CREATORS?

A DJ is seen from behind, wearing a red t-shirt and large headphones, performing at a large outdoor festival. The background is filled with a massive, dense crowd of people stretching far into the distance under a bright sky. The DJ's hands are visible near a piece of equipment, and a watch is on their left wrist.

Core passion

The greatest challenge in life is learning to love what you do every day.

What is your passion?

1) What do I love to do?

5+

2) What am I good at?

3) What does
the world need?

The state of flow

Discuss with a partner

Please find a partner and discuss:

- How did you discover your core passion?
- In which ways can you inspire young people around you to find and apply their passion?

Nature is not capricious
– it would not give you
the ability to dream,
without giving you the ability to achieve it.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Desire to create

We need to create something,
or something within us dies.

A photograph of two small mice. The mouse in the foreground is facing the camera, with its body slightly angled. It has grey and white fur, a pink nose, and dark eyes. The mouse behind it is partially obscured and looking to the left. They are sitting on a white, textured surface. The background is blurred, showing a white cup and some colorful objects.

TERRIBLE THINGS

(MARK TWAIN)

Whatever happens, I will find a way.

it gives you something to do,
but it gets you nowhere."

Action creates satisfaction

There is no room for fear when your heart is filled with love.

Every story needs a hero...

... and every hero needs a dream, a mission or a muse.

The purpose of a goal is to make you come ALIVE.

There are no „lousy people“, it´s just „lousy state of mind“.

Problems vs. Solutions

“Yes, and...”

Surround yourself with positively charged people

Can I get a little better today?

Turn your rivals into inspiration

OPPORTUNITY IS NOWHERE

*Every day inspire at least one person to see the unseen, say the unsaid and do the undone.
At least yourself. Today.*
