

V&A Sanctuary Satellites

Graphics with Matthew Raw

Tuesday 19 July, 17.30-20.00

Take part in this hands-on workshop for secondary teachers led by artist Matthew Raw at his East London studio. Matthew is a founding member of Studio Manifold, a group of nine artists and designers for whom materials and process are integral. Matthew recently completed a 6-month residency at the V&A, where he focused on the current climate of art education in Britain. 'My work focuses on people and place. I respond to real life accounts and look for forms and materials to communicate my thoughts.'

During this session, you will get the chance to explore Matthew's practice which spans graphic design and ceramics, and find out more about the workshop Matthew runs for secondary students at the V&A, which utilises the Museums world class collection of art and design objects.

BOOK NOW:

£15 per person, including materials and refreshments

Booking essential, contact: schools@vam.ac.uk

Please note, this workshop is offered at a specially reduced price by the V&A and is open specifically to teachers based in East London Secondary Schools.*