

Go & See – Theatre Visual Guide Resource

A visual guide to support pupils' understanding of going to see a theatre show at Greenwich Theatre in Greenwich.

You can access additional resources on A New Direction's website.

GREENWICH
THEATRE LONDON

This visual guide could be particularly relevant to pupils who benefit from Social Stories. Teachers could read it with their classes before the trip and it could be shared as a handout for grownups to read at home too.

We're going to the theatre!

I will travel to Greenwich Theatre.

I might be travelling by bus,

or by train,

or on foot.

My class will be going there too.

My teachers will going be there too.

The Location

This is the outside of Greenwich Theatre.

This is the inside of the building.

This is where I will watch the show.

The Theatre

The venue staff will show me where to go and how to get to my seat.

The lights will be on to help me find my seat.

Once the show starts, it will go dark.

I will see the show Dick Whittington and his Cat.

It is 2 1/2 hours long. It has a break in the middle called an interval.

Here is some more information about the show:

Join Dick Whittington and his Cat as they seek fame and fortune in an adventure through good old London Town! Can he outwit the evil King Rat, defeat his gang of revolting rodents?! Will he win the beautiful Alice Fitzwarren's hand in marriage and become Lord Mayor of London?! Find out in this pantomime paved with gold!

The Show

The show will have sounds and music.

If it is too loud, I can cover my ears or use ear defenders.

My class will be there.

Other schools might be there too.

The Interval

There will be a short break in the middle of the show. This is called an interval.

The lights will come back on. The audience might clap.

People in the audience might talk and move around the theatre space.

When the interval ends and the show starts, it will go dark again.

The End of the Show

When the show ends, the lights will come back on.

The audience might clap.

I will walk back to the main entrance.

I will say goodbye to the staff when I leave.

I will travel back to school with my teachers and class.
